

Ethnic aged discrimination and disparities in health and social care: A question of social justice

Author/s: Johnstone, M. J. Kanitsaki, O. | Year: 2008 | Publication type: Journal article | Peer reviewed: | Topic area/s: General Care

Reference:

Key Words:

health and social care services, discrimination, social justice, cultural racism

Research aim:

In this article, it is suggested that cultural racism be named as a possible cause of ethnic aged disparities and disadvantage in health and social care.

Results/Conclusion:

Implications:

It is further suggested that unless cultural racism is named as a structural mechanism by which ethnic aged disparities in health and social care have been created and maintained, redressing them will remain difficult.

Cultural Group(s):

Location of study:

Age group:

Number included in study:

N/A

Type of participants:

Research approach:

Type of data:

Secondary data sources used:

Specific scales or analytical techniques used:

Implications/ Recommendations:

Notes: