

Ethnic disparities in social and economic well-being of the immigrant aged in Australia

Author/s: Khoo, S. E. | Year: 2012 | Publication type: Journal article | Peer reviewed: | Topic area/s: General Wellbeing

Reference:

Key Words:

Sociodemographics, active ageing, participation, volunteering, need for assistance, provision of care

Research aim:

The paper examines ethnic differences in the social and economic well-being of the immigrant aged in Australia and the factors affecting older immigrants' well-being as measured by a number of indicators.

Results/Conclusion:

Implications:

Cultural Group(s):

Overseas born

Location of study:

Age group:

65+

Number included in study:

N/A

Type of participants:

Research approach:

Quantitative

Type of data:

Secondary

Secondary data sources used:

ABS Census data

Specific scales or analytical techniques used:

Implications/ Recommendations:

Notes: